

What's This Landing Page About?

Our research has shown that way too many potential clients leave a website before booking a session, leading to lost opportunity.

We believe there is a way to better capture potential clients by simply registering their interest without commitment.

We do this by directing traffic to a custom landing page we build exclusively for you. It will include your infomercial plus any additional information that will pique their curiosity even more.

On the site will be a simple registration form. They will then receive an automatic email with a warm welcome, your website info, and a special code (usually SIRIUSJOY) for anything you wanted to offer.

We then pass on these qualified leads to you—a much more valuable list for you personally to market to for conversion.

Rather than directing them to your site where you likely experience uncaptured website hits, this is an amazing opportunity to build your customer base.

And don't worry, when submitting the registration, they're also acknowledging their consent. From a Step 0 i-protect foundational approach, transparency and integrity are our priority
